

ANNE SMEETS

Sucker for aesthetics, sounds and senses going wild. Interested in the fading of borders between various art disciplines and media. Enjoys art that challenges habits.

homebase: Utrecht, NL -- driving license: A + B -- age: 29

" IS INTERESTED IN

-- human senses and behavior -- environmental ethics: eco versus ego analysis of spectatorship: how art is being perceived and how it impacts our thoughts and actions -- performance / installation art / immersive art

ARTIST AND FREELANCER

-- Currently developing a multimedial performance about the influence of making and sharing self-portraits on social media on the construction of body image of women.

-- Building an abstracted photoseries on nature. Inspired by natural forms, colors, patterns and textures. This project offers an alternative perspective of our natural surroundings to raise appreciation and better care for this environment.

-- Photographer and image editor in close collaboration with artists to create images for on- and offline media.

COACH

Team member and participant during youth exchanges and personal development trainings hosted by the Olde Vechte foundation, where international youngsters work on themes related to personal development, creativity, art, employability, volunteering, media and storytelling. All project take place at group accommodations and are very intensive, lasting one to three weeks and include overnight stays. During all of these trainings I worked both as a coach and as part of the team that is responsible for facilitating and executing the training. For a complete list of my attendances, see the following page.

" STUDIED

-- Master of Arts and Culture (English course)

Contemporary Theatre, Dance and Dramaturgy

Utrecht University, NL

2016 - 2019

Thesis: "'Problematic transhumans' and 'unfinished' bodies: Understanding human beings as perfectly conditioned machines in and through Katja Heitmann's Pandora's DropBox."

<https://dspace.library.uu.nl/handle/1874/380036>

Internship dramaturgy: Artistic duo Hart van Veen

Realisation of Frustule: an auditive installation, consisting of glass sculptures with integrated speakers. Exhibited on the beach of Terschelling during Oerol festival 2018. Developed a theatrical introduction in order to prepare the visitors for their participation. Also, I wrote an instruction manual for the volunteers and supervised the team of volunteers on the site.

March 2018 - June 2018

-- Bachelor of Design (Dutch course)

Art, Communication and Design

Fontys School of Arts Tilburg, NL

2010 - 2014

Jacques de Leeuw prize nomination: Chosen as most talented student in my studies, based on the entire study career. Read the jury testimony and the motivation for the nomination on the following page.

Internship video: Scapino Ballet Rotterdam

Initiated and created the 10 minute documentary Drie Stappen Vooruit about art director Ed Wubbe, co-choreographer in the urban dance production Loud!. Shooting and editing on my own account.

August 2013 - January 2014

JACQUES DE LEEUW PRIZE NOMINATION

Jury testimony (Jurors: Aad van Nieuwkerk, Jos Wilbrink, Annette Embrechts, Leonie Clement - 2014)

Anne Smeets was rightly nominated, since she explores what is behind the known and the unknown. She challenges herself and is not afraid to take risks, to make a change in present thoughts and choose a route that isn't obvious. Anne is sensitive, she plays with various audiovisual techniques and she takes photos that are close to the skin and will also get under the skin of those who watch the photos. She stands at the beginning of a possible new translation of her work, the performance; not the performance as artwork, but as a process that the artist is going through. Anne documents this process in her own way. [own translation]

Motivation nomination (Teachers Art, Communication and Design, Fontys School of Arts - 2014)

Anne combines the qualities of the autonomous artist with those of the committed designer: She is able to create autonomously, abstract and artistically and applies those skills in a creative way in distinctive applied design. Anne is determined, doesn't just give up and dares to experiment and to expand her limits. Her photographic work evidences her keen eye and her ability to use her surroundings (in this case the academy) for her work. [own translation]
